Danville Gardens

Lisa Campbell

Lisa talked about a recent visit to Proven Winners, based outside of Detroit, a supplier of plants and other things to Danville Gardens. Proven Winner's philosophy is to make gardening easy for anyone...even Gary Dyar. Stop by Shick's to view a fine display of flowers provided by Danville Gardens and planted by Gary. Anyone can do it.

In answering a question from the president, Lisa informed us that chili pepper is a good way to keep rabbits out of your flowers. Jeff Saylor had some other ideas, of the Elmer Fudd variety.

Comments from the audience were plentiful. There was a question about "goober daisies". Not exactly the correct pronunciation, but Lisa handled it well after a good laugh was had by all. No names need be mentioned.

Another comment from the floor noted that Bob Pape does the best gardening, and the post office the worst. Never noticed. I'll have to check it out.

On a final note, Danville Gardens grows annually 50,000 geraniums, 20,000 mums, 40,000 pansies, and 25,000 poinsettias.
