AMBUCS Independence Park

The playground structure is in at the new AMBUCS Independence Park, located at Lincoln Park. Sidewalks and some ground cover will be installed as soon as the weather cooperates. It looks like most of the fund-raising has been completed, thanks to the tenacious efforts of Bob Richard, Bill Fulton the Elder and Bill Fulton the Younger. They have done a superior job - AGAIN! These boys have a future in arm twisting (maybe Tony Soprano is looking for some help).

AMBUCS Notes

Our newest president, Todd Davis, was on hand at the opening of the Challenger League baseball and was struck by a comment made by our most senior member, Don Beard. "Doesn't it make you proud to be an AMBUC?" Mr. Beard said. 'Notes' would like to concur with Mr. Beard...it sure does! If you haven't been out to check out the action, please do, you'll be glad you did.

Jeff Saylor reported in on our first Summer Sounds concert (held June 4). It was the best opening in the series four year history. All the beer and pop was sold out, but was restocked, the band was great and the new Temple Plaza was packed. Come on out and enjoy a rockin' good time. The next concert will be held Friday, June 19 beginning @ 6 p.m.

Todd, Bob and a couple of other AMBUCS were on hand at East Park Elementary School on Wednesday, June 9 to present an AmTryke to four-year-old Brittany Carlton. Also, a Westville Girl Scout troop raised $125.00 to help defray the cost of the tryke. Brittany was exceedingly excited at the prospect of her own tryke - very cool!

Melissa Bodensteiner has asked for committee members for the AMBUCS Summer Camp. The camp will be in two sections: July 26-30 for the younger kids, and Aug. 2-6. She would also like some ideas for activities for the camps. More info will be coming soon.

Gary Tucker Festival of Tees

Gary Tucker was in the house to give us the low down on Danville's next huge, great event. He's chairing the new Festival of Tees (cousin of Festival of Trees). Wow, there's way too much info to recount, but here's an overview.

The festival, presented by Provena United Samaritans Medical Center Foundation and sponsored by Christie Clinic, has been developed to benefit Provena USMC Regional Cancer Center. The event is golf based and will be held on Friday, June 25, and Saturday, June 26.

There will be golf tournaments (Friday will be a four-person scramble and Saturday will be an Open Tournament in two person teams in a Modified Chapman), Junior Golf Skills Competition, clinics and contests. But, wait, that's far from all.

A silent sports auction, 50/50 raffle, entertainment stage, fireworks show (on Saturday around 9:30 p.m.), a Luau on Friday for sponsors and organizing committee. Kids Central will feature outdoor games and activities for children and all sorts of activities, Children's pool party, breakfast with the hot air balloons, and bingo.

Whew, the list of activities is dizzying - for more info on the Summer Celebration, please give our own AMBUC member, Cathy Reardon (event coordinator for Provena USMC Foundation) a ring @ 442.6803 or visit the Foundation website at www.pusmcf.com.
