Bill Brandenberger Baseball Card Collection

Bill Brandenberger shared his life long baseball collection he started as a young child. He loved baseball, but was not a very good player so he collected cards. His collection starts with cards from 1938 to 1948.

He then took a long break until 1985 when his mother mentioned that he needed to clean out her basement. This is where he found all of his cards, still in the boxes the way he left them. His passion was revived and has continued to grow.

His knowledge of the history of baseball and baseball cards is very extensive. He knew he could not collect every card made so he decided that is he was going to focus on collecting autographed cards. Over the years he has discovered that it is much easier to get signed cards from the AAA players so he focuses on those games.

Bill told us many stories of his trips to ballparks all over the United States and some of the challenges of finding the correct park in the correct city. He says it is inexpensive entertainment, but perhaps we should ask Jeannie about that. Bill provided two tables of baseball card memorabilia for us to check out following the meeting.

Halo Painting Blitz

Halo Painting chair Rachel Davis reported that we have 6 people signed up currently. We need 10 people for a team.

Mobile Demo Site

Donna Carlton Vish reported that the Mobile Demo Site traveled to Myrtle Beach SC. Natasha McDonald, Donna's daughter is a psychologist in the Horrey County School District assisted in showing the AmTrykes to several school administrators, PT's and special education personnel.

The trykes were also used at Miracle Baseball game, similar to our Challenger League, where several children were allowed to play on the trykes between games. It was a fantastic experience and incredible exposure for AMBUCS in an area where there are no clubs.
