

Danville Demolition Arena Football, Megan Drake

We welcomed back Mary Lou Stone (who usually sleeps during the noon hour due to her hospital hours). She brought as a guest her daughter, Megan Drake, Account Executive in charge of advertising and marketing with the Danville Demolition Football Team. Megan invited John Christner and John Brammer to visit, owners of the Football Team. John Christner announced that Cellular One will sponsor a "Touch Down" in which proceeds will be donated to the AMBUCS Sprayground! Thanks, Cellular One and Danville Demolition!!!

The Speaker was not able to make the meeting, so questions were answered by Megan and the owners of the football team. About 30 players will attend a camp on January 22, after which they will select the team of about 18 players, with some being on a practice squad. The league is considered semi-pro football and even though there has been much interest by local high school football players, they are encouraged to continue college for eligibility reasons. Megan encouraged an businesses wanting to become a sponsor should get in touch with her. Other information about the team and schedules can be accessed via www.danvilledemolition.com.
